ATTEMPTS TO BURN ENGINEER WANTED HERSELF TO DEATH TO CALL POLICE

Negro Woman Starts Fire in Cell at First Police Station.

Sausanna Jones, colored, last night attempted to burn herself to death in the First Police Station, where she had been locked up on the charge of stealing a clock valued at $3 from Lucy Andrews.

After the woman had been put in a cell she persisted in making so much noise that she was removed to the bull pen. There she continued her racket, and it became necessary to order her down into the dungeon. While in the dungeon she stripped herself of nearly all the clothes she wore, and then, finding a match somewhere, set them afire. Smoke issuing from the dungeon gave the alarm to janitor Gallagher, and he immediately investigated. The clothes were burning rapidly. The fire was soon extinguished, and the woman was hauled out of danger. She was afterward locked up more securely.

ROYAL ARCANUM

Meeting Held to Arrange for Gathering in December.

The general committee of the Royal Arcanum held a meeting Thursday night in the office of Dr. A. G. Brown, at 1015 West Main street, for the purpose of arranging for the big meeting to be held here December 15th and 16th. Mr. W. F. Dabney was selected as chairman of the general committee, and Mr. H. S. Carson secretary. In a day or two the committee will be named.

Those at the meeting were: Dr. A. G. Brown, Messrs. McIntire, Folkes, W. W. Miller, Harry Kemp, E. S. Simpson, the Rev. Dr. F. T. McAdams and Chairman Dabney, who compose the general committee. Representatives of the Supreme and Grand Councils will be present.

RENEW TELEPHONE FIGHT

Alderman Bennett to Take Service Question to Council.

Alderman Bennett, who is leading the fight for a better telephone service, had yesterday taken the question to the Council. He had previously taken it to the City Council, but it was decided to wait until next week. Council will be asked to order an investigation to see whether or not the present service is satisfactory. The Board of Public Works will be asked to give a first-class service. Mr. Bennett will probably offer a resolution at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

WANT PLAYGROUNDS HERE

Miss Stewart Tells of Free Air Help to Baltimore Children.

The progress of the children's playground movement in Baltimore was discussed yesterday afternoon at the residence of Miss Seiden, on East Franklin Street. Representatives of the School Board, the Federation of Mothers' Clubs, the Civic League and other organizations, who are interested, were present. Miss Stewart said that Baltimore had twenty-eight public playgrounds, some in the parks and some at the school buildings. In the tenement sections they had been of great value in protecting children against tuberculosis, the free air treatment proving beneficial. The hope of those behind the movement in Richmond is that the School Board will assist and provide new quarters for the children.

Mr. Wadley Slightly Improved.

The condition of Mr. Everett Wadley, who has been quite ill for several days at his home, No. 918 West Grace, was slightly improved late last night.

ALL ABOARD FOR AFRICA

Coming down the journalistic pike yesterday, on his way to the brewery, the press agent gave away a secret of local and worldwide importance. At Richmond, the direction of Richmond leaders of the race, the negroes are preparing to establish a black government in the heart of Africa, after which thousands will be transported there from all parts of the United States.

The most hated of the bloods, "The press agent," "have already spoken about the organization of the navy, but the funds are not in sight." This movement, says the informant, has been under way for quite a while. He goes on to say that the scheme was first taken up by the Afro-American Council, the resolution getting through by the skin of its teeth. Having blazed the dark way, the promoters are almost ready to deliver the goods, will be named Jackson Ward.

PLANS FOR ARMY SENT TO COUNCIL

After More Than Year of Suffering, Serg't Blount Succumbs to Injury

SERGEANT F. D. BLOUNT.

Mr. Bryant's Design, Estimated Cost of Which Is $156,000, Accepted by Committee.

MARKET ON FIRST FLOOR

Only $40,000 Set Aside for Building So Far—Big Drill-Room on Top Floor.

Plans submitted by Architect Charles K. Bryant for the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' armory were accepted by the Committee on Grounds and Buildings last night and sent to Council for approval of the estimated cost of the structure. The estimated cost of the structure, the first floor of which will be used as a vegetable market, is $156,000. Thus far Council has set aside the sum of $40,000 for the armory.

Six or eight plans were submitted by architects, all of which were examined by Assistant City Engineer Jones, Building Inspector Beck and Major Bowles.

Mr. Bryant's design shows a handsome building, which some of the members said was the Mexican type of architecture. The ground floor will be used for market purposes altogether. On the second floor there will be four company rooms, headquarters for the major, band room, quartermaster's room, shower bath and locker. The drill room on the third story will have a floor space of 17,040 square feet. In the basement, under the Sixth Street sidewalk, there will be a rifle range, containing 7,298 square feet. A swimming pool is also proposed for the basement. Council will be asked to provide the necessary funds for the armory.

WILLING TO PAY UP

The case of J. W. Kestner, charged with the larceny of 500 blocks of stone from the Ideal Building Stone Company, which was called in the Police Court yesterday morning, was postponed until November 10th. Kestner, it is stated, is ready to pay for the blocks he is alleged to have stolen, and would square the account if one of the officials would visit him and give him the chance. He can be charged with a misdemeanor only, as the largest number of blocks he is alleged to have stolen at one time amounts to but $35.

NEAGLE RESIGNS

Marshall Ward Counselman Files Letter Resigning as Clerk.

Counselman John T. Neagle, of Marshall Ward, filed his letter of resignation with Clerk B. T. August, of City Council, yesterday. His successor will be elected Monday night. Neagle has already agreed upon the new member, and though many close guesses have been made, the delegation refuses to take the public into its confidence.

"Mr. Neagle's successor, the man suggested by our delegation," said Alderman Satterfield, of Marshall Ward, "is one of the best men in the city. He will make a fine representative."

MARKET OPENS STRONG

Small Sales Reported Yesterday by All Warehouses.

Yesterday practically marked the opening of the market for new tobacco. The warehouses reported small sales. The prices start off well—better than for some years—some lots selling considerably over 10 cents. Mr. A. L. Smith, of Caroline county, sold his whole load of 1,500 pounds for more than 10 cents. The sale was made at the Shockoe Warehouse.

Farmers and warehousemen are much pleased with the outlook for prices and over the good attendance of buyers. Still better sales are anticipated as soon as the farmers have a good season for handling their crops.

Capers Estate $37,500.

In the Chancery Court yesterday Mrs. Ann M. Capers qualified as executrix of the estate of her husband, Major James H. Capers. The estate was valued at $37,500. The business in which Major Capers was engaged will be continued.

"LIKE MAGIC."

New Food Makes Wonderful Changes.

When a man has suffered from dyspepsia so many years that he can't remember when he had a natural appetite, he is excused for saying "It acts like magic."

When it is a simple, wholesome food, instead of any one of a large number of so-called remedies in the form of drugs, it is more than ever likely to feel as though a sort of miracle has been performed.

A Chicago man, in the delight of restored digestion, puts it in this way: "Like magic, fittingly describes the manner in which Grape-Nuts cured me of poor digestion, coated tongue and loss of appetite, of many years' standing."

"I tried about every medicine that was recommended to me, without relief. Then I tried Grape-Nuts. The name given by the Postum Co. But I had disliked the fourth package, my stomach was all right, and for the past two months I have been eating with a relish anything set before me. That is something I had been unable to do previously for years."

"I am stronger than ever, and I consider the effects of Grape-Nuts on a weak stomach as something really wonderful. It builds up the entire body, as well as the brain and nerves. Name given by the Postum Co. But I had disliked the fourth package, my stomach was all right, and for the past two months I have been eating with a relish anything set before me. That is something I had been unable to do previously for years."

JUDGE LEAKE DIES IN GOOCHLAND HOME

Widely Known Lawyer Passes Away After Very Long Illness.

FUNERAL HERE TO-MORROW

Served Gallantly Through War and Was Prominent in State Politics.

After an illness of more than a year Judge Andrew Kean Leake, one of the best known lawyers of Virginia, died yesterday afternoon at his country residence, "East Leake," near Irwin Station, in Goochland county.

The son of the late Hon. Walter D. Leake and Jane Margaret Kean, of Rocky Springs, Goochland county, Judge Leake was born at that place April 3, 1842. He was educated at the classical school of his uncle, N. B. Kean, and at Bloomfield Academy, in Albemarle county.

Served Through War.

At the age of nineteen, in the year 1861, he left Bloomfield to enter the army, and served with gallantry until the close of the war. In 1861 he enlisted as a private in the Goochland Cavalry. Later he was promoted to lieutenant in Leake's Battery, of the Turner Artillery, of which his father was captain. With them he served until he became adjutant of Richardson's Artillery Battery, in which he served until the close of the war. At the second battle of Manassas he was severely wounded.

Immediately after the close of the war Judge Leake commenced the study of law in the office of his father, and was admitted to the Goochland bar. He was elected in 1870 to the judgeship in his native county, but resigned the position at the death of his father, three years later, without completing his term. Following his term as judge, he formed a partnership with the late Hon. W. B. Ewell, with whom he was associated until a few years ago, when the partnership was dissolved in order that each might practice with his sons. In recent years he had been associated with his sons, Hon. D. H. Leake and Walter A. Leake.

Attorney for C. and O.

Succeeding Hon. Thomas S. Martin, who resigned the position when elected to the United States Senate, Judge Leake was appointed attorney for the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company in the counties of Goochland, King and Queen, and Albemarle, which work his firm still performs.

Wherever he was known Judge Leake was held in high esteem. He wielded great political power in several sections of the State, and especially in Goochland and Louisa counties, where he practiced law and was well known.

On July 3, 1872, he was married to Miss Violet Harris, the daughter of General David B. Harris, of Woodville, Goochland county. She survives him. There are seven children—Miss Margaret, Frederika and Eliza Leake, and Messrs. David H. Walter D. and Dr. Louis Leake, all of Goochland county, and Mr. Charles L. Leake, of New Jersey.

The body will be brought to Judge Leake's city home, No. 1502 Grove avenue, to-day, and the funeral will take place from that place to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The interment will be made in Hollywood.

The Northside singing school was organized on Tuesday night with a large membership. The class is being conducted in the Northside Hall by Professor W. H. Witte, and meets every Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. It is carried on under the auspices of the Northside Baptist Church, and any resident of Northside interested in good music is invited.

Honor Mr. Johnson.

Mr. W. R. Johnson, who for more than twenty years has been a member of the Grain and Cotton Exchange here, and who is now a director in that institution, was presented yesterday morning with a handsome silver pitcher by the other members of the exchange as a mark of their esteem and a token of their good wishes upon his approaching marriage, which is soon to take place in this city. Mr. Johnson's engagement to Miss Jennie McPhail Welch has been announced.

WHOLE CROWD DISMISSED

Charges and Counter-Charges Sifted by Justice Crutchen.

T. A. Sims, white, appeared in court yesterday morning, charged with assaulting and threatening to kill George W. Green, and George W. Green and Henry Johnson appeared on the charge of assaulting T. A. Sims. All but Sims were dismissed, and he was put under $100 security for six months.

Henry Johnson, colored, appeared on the charge of snatching a pocketbook containing $5, and in order to give more time for the working up of the case it was continued to November 6th.

WHO ORDERED THE COAL?

Load Dumped Near Residence of Mr. Bemiss, Where It Doesn't Belong.

Mr. E. L. Bemiss, of No. 117 East Grace Street, is much worried about a load of coal which has been dumped on the street on the Second Street side of his residence. Mr. Bemiss did not order it, and he does not know from what dealer it came. The coal was probably unloaded through a mistake on the part of the driver.

Seen and Heard in Public Places

There was quite an exit of politicians, public men and voters from the city last night on account of next Tuesday's election, and another large contingent will follow to-day.

Nearly all the State officials and clerks who reside within the city will have left by to-night, and a large number of college students, especially those residing in doubtful districts, have gone home. Strong appeals have been made to both Democratic and Republican students who live in the Fifth and Ninth Districts to return and cast their ballots, and most of them will do so. The coming election was discussed more thoroughly around the lobbies last night than on any previous occasion during the campaign.

Democrats appeared apprehensive concerning several districts, which have hitherto been regarded as safe. One of them is the city of Newport News; another, Fauquier and Goochland, and still another, Stafford and King. Normal conditions do not exist in any of them this year.

In Newport News the incumbent, who has been re-elected, is a Democrat for the House, has strong temperance leanings, and Newport News has a formidable whiskey element, which favors the Democrats.

The Democratic nominee is Hon. W. E. Barrett, and he is being opposed by an independent, who has the endorsement of the Republicans and the support of many anti-temperance Democrats. The campaign will close with a big rally to-night in Mr. Barrett's interests at which Hon. J. H. Kelly, of this city, and other orators will make addresses.

In Fauquier and Goochland the Democrats are badly outnumbered, but the Republicans have put up a strong man in the person of Mr. John G. Luce.

The situation in King George and Stafford is badly mixed, and the district is regarded as somewhat doubtful.

General Stith Bolling, postmaster of Petersburg, and a distinguished Confederate veteran, is here attending the convention of postmasters, and is stopping at the Hotel Croft. He is popular in Richmond and was greeted by a number of his old friends in the lobby last night.

In a sling as a result of a recent fracture, a prominent Virginia Democrat from a nearby city was returning from the football game yesterday on a street car in company with a party of local newspapermen. He was loud in his praise of the "Jim Crow" law, and was declaring how much he had to do with its passage. He spoke of its wonderfully fine operation, and of the comfort derived from the absolute separation of the white and colored passengers. About this time the car halted and took on a large number of the colored people who were waiting, and he, himself, quickly arose to pass out and give it to two ladies. But he did not succeed in his effort at gallantry, and as he was stepping down he was pulled back by a strong arm, and he fell. The newspapermen chuckled and the Democratic leader asked that the incident be not printed, admitting that the joke was on him.

Colonel Joseph T. Lawless, of Norfolk, was in the city yesterday on local business, and was a caller at the office of the Supreme Court of Appeals.

Colonel Lawless has a number of important cases on the docket for the term which opens on November 12th, and he was looking after some matters pertaining to the records.

When asked if anything new was going on in the Senate City, the secretary of the Commonwealth said the situation down there was very quiet. He declared that a great many Northern members and disunionists were taking their turn at the exposition, and he understood the attendance was keeping up remarkably well.

Colonel Lawless resided in this city for many years as Secretary of the Commonwealth, and has a number of warm friends here. He was greeted by many of them on his rounds yesterday.

What, however, seems to be the most probable solution of the Imperial Tobacco case is that the Imperial Tobacco Company has to carry its tobacco to England, and on account of the high duty, it is very important that it should be as dry as possible in order to reduce the weight.

It is better for the company to buy in the raw state and handle it than to go through the hands of the warehouse people, who do not handle tobacco in a way most satisfactory for foreign shipment. It is understood that the crop bought by the Imperial people was raised this year, and is the amount pledged to the Equity Society. The 1906 crop is still in hand.

The class of tobacco bought by the Imperial Company is entirely different from any handled in the local market. In short, the dealers do not expect the slightest change in this market as a result of the transaction. Of course, the few sections of the State where the farmers are already pooling the deal may tend to strengthen them.
